Links to other folks building immunity.

Bored? Check out these cool sites. Then get back to work.

Swallow a Wind Chime – The website of artist Judy Rushin.

Seattle Creative Arts Center – A superb community-based arts facility in the Old Ballard area of Seattle.

Ta-Nehisi Coates – Writer for The Atlantic. In a sane world, this guy would do two-a-week for the NY Times.

The 4th Ward Afro-Klezmer Orchestra – Atlanta-based klezmer-funk-rock-jazz ensemble performing original compositions and arrangements combining West African rhythms with Eastern European klezmer melodies. Probably the best band you haven't heard yet.

The Bitter Southerner – One great story from the South every Tuesday. Great writing, and a fresh perspective on a benighted region that I've always called home.

Charles P. Pierce – The best political blog on the Interweb Tubes.

The Tricentric Foundation – A not-for-profit organization that supports the ongoing work and legacy of Anthony Braxton.

Jake Legg Orchestral Enterprises – Music by a guy who looks just like me and often sleeps in my bed. A few hot numbers here, updated occasionally.
